

TREW Gear Manufacturing Statement Fall 2013 / Winter 2014

Quality output is a result of good management and compliance to fair labor practices, and we choose our factories carefully based on these factors. We work closely with our manufacturing partners to both ensure a high-level of production quality as well as observe diligent adherence to a socially responsible code of conduct.

We value transparency in the supply chain, and on the following pages the full contact info and descriptions of our suppliers are provided. The factories that we work with are compliant and legal within the framework of their national labor laws as well the fundamental conventions of the International Labor Organization.
